A screenshot of the Spotify website's comparison between the Free and Premium tiers. The "Free" tier is on the left, described as "Everything you want from music. Completely free." It features icons for a smartphone, a tablet, and a laptop, each with "AD" written on it. Below these icons, it says "Listen on mobile, tablet & computer", "Millions of songs — just hit play", and "Made possible by ads". A grey button labeled "Get Free" is at the bottom. The "Premium" tier is on the right, described as "Your music is everywhere. $9.99 a month." It features icons for a smartphone, a tablet, a laptop, and a desktop monitor. Below these icons, it says "Play any song, anywhere", "Download music & listen offline in high-quality audio", and "No audio ads & no commitment". A green button labeled "Try Premium" is at the bottom. A green ribbon in the top right corner of the Premium section says "30 Day Free Trial".

If I'm right, you have to go online after 29 days if you have done that Previously, the users with Spotify premium can download up to 3333 songs on each up to three devices, but recently the company ups the limit on offline downloads to a whopping 10,000 songs, that.. One thing you can try is to 'download' al the tracks/albums/playlists and turn on offline mode, before(!) canceling your subscription.. Edit: After you canceled your subcription, you have until the end of your payed subscription to use the premium features of Spotify.
